Java Constructs: Help Sam!

Sam a beginner in Java received an assignment on Constructors.

According to the assignment he has to implement a class with three constructors, which could display and initialize the value of a variable.

The conditions were:

- First constructor takes an integer value as attribute.
- Second constructor takes a float value as attribute.
- Third constructor does not take any attribute.

Now, he seeks your help to get the assignment done.